CO. 9 COMING HOME

PLANS BEING MADE TO HAVE C. A. C. BOYS IN GLENDALE THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving will be a day filled with the sentiment of the occasion in Glendale this year, for the boys of the Ninth company, Coast Artillery, are coming home to dinner. While this will be the main event of the day in many homes, the whole city is to be included in the celebration during the course of the day, as the company will give an exhibition drill on the high school grounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, to be followed by a football game between the boys of the Glendale Union high school team and a team comprised of members of the Ninth, the lineup for which will be announced later. Doubtless committees of patriotic citizens will attend to further details of public demonstration which will give our boys the welcome which should be accorded to them from the "home folks." Credit for this very happy arrangements must be given to Mr. N. C. Hayhurst, the physical director at the Glendale Union high school, who has been working for some time in the effort to bring about the plan. Arrangements have now been completed and the event is assured. It remains only for Glendale to organize the enthusiasm with which it will be greeted into a well conducted program of welcome.

UNLIMITED LOYALTY

While we as a people are showing an unlimited degree of loyalty to our government we should not be blind to the fact that big concerns that are manufacturing war goods are making profits that aggregate many times the amount of their prior war profits. These war goods are absolutely necessary, just as it is necessary that young men should leave their positions and enter the service of the country. Our government says to the young men: "Your recompense for services shall be thus and so and no more." Why can not these large concerns that are manufacturing war goods be informed that these goods are an absolute necessity, and they must be manufactured, but the price is thus and so, and no more, and that price to be a reasonable one? It is indeed astounding to learn of the excessive war profits that are being made by men whose advantages in this world should be no greater than the young man of 25 who is called from a clerical position into the service of his country. Who should have the preference, the man who serves his country in the trenches or the man who serves his country by owning stock in a concern that manufactures war goods?

SCOUTS' FAREWELL

On Friday evening Boy Scout Troop No. 2 had a fine time, even though the affair was in the nature of a farewell to their former scout master, Mr. Lane, who has left Glendale to make his home in Venice, and who had charge of this troop for the past two years. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt entertained the boys at their home, 110 South Seventh street, and rejoiced their hearts with most cordial hospitality, as well as good refreshments. The boys presented Mr. Lane with a gift in appreciation of his devoted work for them. They then greeted their new scout master, Mr. William McMillan, of 217 East First street, with youthful enthusiasm and showed clearly that they look forward with much pleasure to the work of the year under him. Mr. McMillan is quite as enthusiastic as the boys, and there is no doubt that the plans for the months ahead will bring him an equal amount of enjoyment. A hike has been arranged for the near future and the boys are also expecting to do some serious work of real benefit to the cause of their country.

COMMUNITY SINGING

(By Walt Le Noir Church)

This evening at the Glendale Union high school the special program will be provided in part by Miss Gertrude Champlain, the skilled community accompanist, who is also one of Glendale's most popular teachers of the piano. Pupils of her school will play and demonstrate what they are learning. Other specialties will be given by Mr. Julius Kranz, of whose singing violin Glendalians never tire. He has pupils who give promise of rivaling their master.

Aside from those special attractions let us not forget that singing duello between Dr. Joseph Marple of Tropico and Glendale's own master of the "high C," Spencer Robinson, our community singing leader and teacher.

NEWS FROM FIRING LINE

MR. COREY, WAR CORRESPONDENT, WRITES TO HIS MOTHER IN GLENDALE

Mrs. M. S. Corey, of 235 South Louise street, has received many very interesting letters from her son, Herbert Corey, the well known war correspondent for the Associated Press, who has spent his time at the various fronts of the allies since the beginning of the war. Mr. Corey has just left the American front and is now in Switzerland, beginning a tour of the neutral countries. In a recent letter he tells of his quarters in France and speaks concerning the American troops just before they were sent forward to actual service in the trenches. He says:

"Am living, with 16 other correspondents, in an ancient stone house in a little old village that dates back to Roman times. Food is good and plentiful. Beds are the old-fashioned of the country, with a feather bed to sleep on and another for cover.

"The women servants are smiling and obliging and entirely at their ease when they bring the cafe au lait to us at the bedside in the morning—a European custom which we readily fall in with these cold mornings.

"Just returned from a week at battalion headquarters, during which I was surprised and delighted at the manner in which our men are coming along. They were green rookies for the most part, who hardly knew how to carry a gun. Now they are shaping up beautifully. Their training is hard and intensive, but the net result is a physical condition that leaves nothing to be desired. They march tirelessly; they are hard as steel rivets, and they eat prodigiously. Their officers feel that they will be ready when the time comes for them to go to the trenches, which is the ultimate result of all this preparation. My only fear is there will not be enough of them. They are a fine lot."

A year ago Mr. Corey spent several months with the Italian forces and wrote with unbounded enthusiasm of the military skill and efficiency of that army and of their miracles of accomplishment—now so unhappily swept away in the disaster of the last two weeks. Under date of October 15, before the German invasion of Italy had begun, he writes:

"I find little basis for immediate optimism. The Germans, I regret to say, are neither whipped or starved yet. It seems incredible that any people can hold on as they are holding, but the fact is a stubborn one that can not be believed away. It is our fresh American strength that must help the allies to crush them."

Mr .Corey returns from time to time to Paris, where Mrs. Corey has been actively at work for and with the French soldiers during the last two years. As "Marraine," or godmother, she interests herself in her 13 boys, or poilus, writing friendly letters, sending gifts of food, pipes, tobaccos and in various ways making them feel that there is some one who takes a warm personal interest in their welfare, for all of her list are, without exception, boys who are entirely friendless. From time to time one is killed, and their captain replaces him by a new one. When they come to Paris on "permission" of absence, or as convalescents at the hospital, she makes their stay as pleasant as possible. In a late letter she writes:

"Am just in after a tramp of ten miles. Took a bunch of my poilus for a walk in the gardens of Versailles, and am mighty tired."

GLEN EYRIE ACTIVE

The regular meeting of the Glen Eyrie chapter was held on Thursday evening, and was the largest of the year, with a number of out of town guests and past matrons and patrons from many other chapters in attendance, among whom were Dr. and Mrs. Harry V. Brown, who have recently come to Glendale to make their home. Dr. Brown is a past assistant grand patron, while Mrs. Brown is a past matron from the Hollenbeck chapter. Six new members were initiated, Dr. and Mrs. Eames of Tropico, Mrs. Charles Letts, Mrs. Frank J. Kuntsner, Miss Mildred Lyon and Mrs. Anna Hewitt. There were also two affiliates, Dr. and Mrs. Hogue from Colorado City. Later, election of officers took place, the new officers being as follows: Worthy matron, Miss Della Echols; worthy patron, Mr. Milton Grumbling; assistant matron, Mrs. Mary Garnet Pollock; conductress, Mrs. Sallie Braden, and assistant conductress, Miss Harriet Nichols.

LIBRARY BOARD GUESTS

MRS. ALMA J. DANFORD, LIBRARIAN, ASSISTED BY STAFF, ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Alma Danford entertained at her home, 914 West Fifth street, on Thursday evening, the members of the library board with the wives and husbands. The occasion was the celebration of the tenth anniversary of Mrs. Danford's having been made librarian. She was gracefully assisted in entertaining by the girls of her library staff, Miss Laura E. Roberts, Miss Esther A. Grist, Miss Marguerite Stauffacher and Miss Leone M. Shattuck, who is the Sunday attendant. Mrs. Danford was presented with a beautiful bouquet of lovely dark red rosebuds, with ferns, in a happily phrased speech of appreciation for her work by Dr. A. L. Bryant, who has been president of the board continuously from almost the beginning of Mrs. Danford's term of office. The board and the librarian have worked together in perfect harmony during these past years, in which Mrs. Danford has always been able to feel sure of support and sincere backing in any undertaking for advancement. Such conscientious public service and mutual loyalty in co-operation for betterment is certain to produce the best possible results, and consequently Glendale may feel proud of the accomplishments of these last few years within its library.

The evening was spent very pleasantly by all, a literary game furnishing much entertainment. Music was enjoyed and the dainty refreshments were very charmingly served by the girls of the staff. Yellow and white chrysanthemums, prettily arranged, formed the decorations, and each of the ladies among the guests, including the assistant hostesses was given a beautiful big blossom as a favor as they left for their homes.

THE MODERN WAY

The modern and very fair way now is for church and club organizations to use paid for space in the local daily newspapers for the purpose of making announcements. The thorough and practical business training ministers of the gospel are getting in colleges is discouraging the free newspaper space idea. There was a time when school teachers and ministers boarded around and were not required to pay anything for board, and there was a time when the country newspaper man took wood, potatoes and poultry in payment of subscriptions, but these days are past. Occasionally yet there is back in the woods pubpublishers who offer to trade advertising space for groceries, automobile tires and gasoline, but the instances are indeed few.

Now, real value of merchandise and real worth of newspaper space is what counts, and the modern method is better for the merchants and better for the newspaper man.

It is indeed encouraging for the editor of the Evening News to learn of the very live interest the people of the Glendale community are taking in the local daily paper. This little, newsy sheet fills a place that no large city paper can fill, and the people are realizing that fact more and more every day.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET

Mr. John Hyde Braly has consented to preside at the banqeut to be held at the Methodist church Monday evening to plan for the big Y. M. C. A. drive. Martin Sadler of Camp Kearny will address the men, telling something of the need of the great work the Y. M. C. A. is doing. This organization is trying to maintain the morale of the boys away from home, and it is the only agency in the world equipped and trained to meet the vital, personal needs of these boys. It is trying to provide for their comfort, to safeguard them against temptations in their hours of loneliness and homesickness, to keep them physically fit, mentally sound and morally clean and to carry a similar program into the war-worn armies of Russia, France and Italy. This great organization needs $35,000,000 for this great work, and California's share is $750,000. An endeavor will be made to raise $4000 in Glendale and $1000 in Tropico.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE

At their monthly meeting last Wednesday the members of the Ministers' Association of Glendale voted unanimously to hold the union Thanksgiving service this year in St. Mark's Episcopal church, corner of South Louise and Fifth streets, on Thanksgiving day, November 29, at 11 a. m. The offering this year is to go to the relief of the Armenians and Syrians.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

CALIFORNIA'S MOBILIZATION OF FIRST NATIONAL ARMY DRAFT ENDS TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, November 10.—California's mobilization of drafted men has ended. It closed today—the final day for men to become members of the first national army increment. Under orders from the war department today was the last day of grace allowed to exemption boards for filling their quotas. During the last week there has been much hustling in some parts of the state where the quotas had been short and in a number of instances last minute physical examinations had to be held.

LOS ANGELES, November 10.—Justice to the girls first, is the motto of Mrs. Elizabeth Blackiston in charge of the federal employment office here. She has revolutionized the principles of the employment business. Her policy in cases where girls leave their jobs or are fired, is to listen to the girl's side of the story and not take the word of the employer alone, as, she believes, is done far too often. Unless the case is most flagrant, the girl is given her place on the waiting list without a blot on her record. The dominant idea is to help the workers—not merely to fill vacant jobs.

No pirate taxis are to be permitted in Los Angeles. An ordinance aimed at the incidental taxi which swoops down from nowhere on busy days, hangs out the "for rent" sign, grabs the choice business on busy corners and forces the regular taxis to remain in their regular haunts has been passed by the city council.

Soldiers should be encouraged to marry before they go to war. It's the best way to protect their morals. That is the belief of R. S. Sparks, cupid clerk of the Los Angeles county clerk's office. "I've made many a special trip to my office Saturday afternoons just to issue some Sammy and his sweetheart a license," Sparks declared. "I believe in encouraging these unions. The young men may not have enjoyed an hour's honeymoon with their wives—often they are married just before leaving for the training camp. But the effect is good. "Get a young man married and he'll be proof against flirtations when he's in the army and away from home. It's not true of the older men as of the young ones. A young married man lives almost continuously

AT CAMP LEWIS

CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., November 10.—A real, wild west roundup with more thrills than a dozen Pendleton's is what Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah cowboys of the 348th field artillery are planning for Camp Lewis. General Greene has told them to go the limit—to take the wildest bronchos of the remount station and tame them by the most approved methods. Captain C. M. Breezer conceived the idea and J. L. Lingley is manager. The show will come off November 10. Cowboys from Idaho. Montana and Oregon—many of them who have won honors at Pendleton and Cheyenne roundups—are putting the finishing touches on their chaps and picking out their wildest ponies from the remount station today, preparatory to the show. The indications are that the exhibition will rival those which have helped make the "wild west" famous.

There's no more danger in trench fighting than in any other kind of warfare according to Adjt. Georges Brizou, French army. He bases his assertion on three years' trench experience. "Men are frightened when they are under shell fire the first time," he declared. "But the fear soon wears off. Trench fighting is really not dangerous—at least not as dangerous as the people in this country seem to think. If a soldier in trench service is careful, there is no more reason why he should be wounded than in any other kind of fighting." Adjt. Brizou is here to instruct Camp Lewis men in the finer points of the war game.

"So you have twins at your house," said Mrs. Nabor to little Jack.

"Yessum," he said, soberly, "two of them."

"What are they going to call them, my dear?"

"Well, I don't know for sure, but I think their names is Thunder and Lightnin', 'cause that's the names papa called them when the doctor came in and told him about them."—New Puck.

Don't complain about the weather so long as you are not able to change its condition.

The communion offering at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning will be turned over to the Armenian relief committee. Those who are interested are urged to bring their gifts.

Milton Brown and Walter Beach were the guests on Friday evening of Miss Catherine Lord, formerly a Glendale Union high school girl, at a dance given at the Westlake School for Girls in Los Angeles.

Miss Mae Patrick, who has for several days been visiting her sister, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, at her home, 101 Brand boulevard, returned Friday morning to her home in Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Dora Gibson, of the High School, left this morning for Linda Vista and San Diego, where she will spend the week end with her son, James, who belongs to Battery F at Camp Kearny.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Robinstein, of 1534 Oak street, and their two grandchildren, Bessie and David Hicks, left on Thursday for Riverside, where they will make their home on a ranch. The family will be greatly missed by their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaminsky returned to their home, 1446 Sycamore avenue, on Friday from Oxnard, where Mr. Kaminsky has been engaged in business connected with the sugar industry for some months past. Mrs. Kaminsky joined her husband about a month ago.

Mrs. Earl Bond, of 1563 Vine street, entertained with a dinner on Monday evening in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. James Manning. Covers were laid for Mrs. James Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Manning, Miss Gladys Manning, Mrs. Fred Colkhart and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bond.

Mrs. Flora Pixley and daughter, Miss Olive, of 1216 Lomita avenue, with their house guest, Mrs. Anna Brockett, of Topeka, Kas., left this morning for Hermosa Beach, where they will remain until the middle of January. Mrs. Brockett is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Pixley, and arrived in Glendale a few days ago.

On Friday evening Mrs. F. D. Silvius entertained with a dinner party at her home, 1456 West Colorado street, in honor of Mr. Silvius' birthday. The guests were: Mrs. J. E. Krukow of South Jackson street with her daughter, Wilma, and her son, Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Long, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence De Lane of 1564 West Fifth street. The evening was spent very merrily, Mr. Silvius being greeted on every hand with hidden surprises which caused much entertainment for the company. Music and dancing occupied the evening most enjoyably for all.

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. N. Hagood, 1454 Salem street. Mrs. Bessie Bartlett Frankel of Hollywood, district chairman of music, spoke on "Community Singing," and Miss Pray played two selections from Chopin and MacDowell. Mrs. Hagood and Mrs. Bosserman each gave selections from their own compositions, Mrs. Bosserman playing "The Elves' Dance" and Mrs. Hagood "Forty Horsepower." Patriotic songs were sung by all before the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Robert Wilcox gave a surprise dinner for her husband early in the week at their home, 1311 West Ninth street, which was novel as well as pretty and most enjoyable. About 25 guests were served with a chicken tamale dinner, served buffet style, with the various duties as waiters and other incidental tasks assigned to the guests themselves through clever little favors which were drawn, with numbers attached. The plan furnished much amusement. Miss Moore of Los Angeles, who is a charming professional dancer, gave some beautiful dances as well as several entertaining readings. Mr. Powell, also a Los Angeles guest, rendered some remarkably violin solos. The guests enjoyed themselves with music and dancing and the evening ended with the Virginia reel.

A very lovely little dinner was given Thursday evening in honor of Miss Anna Bode and Miss Carol Whitaker by Miss Whitaker's mother, Mrs. George A. Whitaker, at her home, 315 North Maryland avenue. The two girls are in training at the Pasadena hospital. In addition to the guests of honor, those present were: Misses Geneva Lang, Edith Mae Church, Gladys Mason, Franc Kinch and Mildred Whitaker. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. S. F. Whitaker, of 1421½ Pioneer Drive. The table was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. After the delicious meal the girls spent a very merry evening with music and dancing. Miss Franc Kinch, who is an accomplished pianist, gave a beautiful selection and there were many jolly songs as all gathered about the piano.

PACIFIC AVENUE T.-P. A.

The Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher Association held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 8, at 2:30 p. m., in the kindergarten room, where business was transacted and those unfamiliar with parliamentary law were given a chance to do their bit and taught to do it right.

It was a happy session, short but interesting, amusing and instructive. At the close of the meeting add adjourned into another room, where a special program had been prepared. After the usual opening, plans were discussed for the bazaar to be given in the early part of December, then discontinued for later consideration, as many speakers were yet to be heard. Mrs. Von Oven spoke of the splendid juvenile work the children are doing for the Red Cross, and urged the mothers to do their share to encourage the younger ones. Mr. Hartman took "Community Singing" for his subject, and pointed it out as one of the good, clean ways in which to express our gratitude and cheer. The school was also given a most useful book by this same thoughtful gentleman. Now it was getting late, the clock was fast making its rounds toward the dinner hour, and as if to remind us of that seemingly troublesome task on arriving home, Mrs. James Beggs urged the members to bring and exchange good conservation recipes. Then Miss Lantz of the high school gave a most helpful talk on "What Domestic Science Means to Us Today." It explained many of the problems we now face in our kitchens, told just why they seem so real and how to overcome them, and still feel satisfied, with plenty left for the less fortunate. Miss Lantz most generously gave each one present a paper containing five different recipes to keep as their own and served three out of the five, a most appetizing pea roast, carrot pudding and lemon sauce. Needless to say, we were convinced of their usefulness, and many a family will thus be served for some time to come.

In a most charming manner Miss Wetherby sang "An Irish Love Song," "The Star" and "Mammy's Song," accompanied by Miss Apple, of the Intermediate school. Mrs. Barton then gave some real facts about food conservation, and all were made to realize we are not to stint but to substitute. Many other useful recipes were given out at the close of the meeting. Dainty refreshments were served in the court, a pleasant chat with the members followed, and all came away with a greater knowledge of what is really going on during these sad times and with a better understanding of what our duty is to lessen the burden of others.

Why Men Delay
(An Allegory)

One day the Prince of Devils, Procrastination, and his clan of little Devils—namely, Falsehood, Fear, Worry and others who harass us humans, held court. They were met to discuss Life Insurance.
—After Falsehood had suggested to tell the people that Life Insurance is an unnecessary expense and the returns small and unsatisfactory; and Self-Conceit had said tell them that Life Companies are unnecessary and that men ought to handle their own savings and rely on themselves—the Great Devil of Procrastination arose and said: "No use to tell men these things because the value of Life Insurance is self-evident and they regard it highly. Let us devote all our energies to DELAYING their action. Play up strong on present pleasures and comforts, as against the remote good in Life Insurance—no hurry, next month or next year is time enough for that."
—And so the Devils went forth and did their work as bidden, and that is why there are so many men today who cannot get insurance—put it off too long.
—Men do you "get it?" Is this allegory or truth? Delay will accomplish exactly the same thing as absolute refusal.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The regular meeting last Monday was very well attended, and at the close of the working session the monthly business meeting was held. The secretary's report for October was received and showed good progress made. Five new members have joined since the previous meeting and various activities engaged in. A letter from Mrs. Nanno Woods was read, inclosing a check for $6 earned by her in French lessons. A vote of thanks was offered Mrs. Woods, and the ladies expressed appreciation. The treasurer's report was read, showing $60 receipts during the month and a balance on hand of $196. The purchasing committee, headed by Mrs. England, was requested to lay in all fresh supplies needed for the work.

Mrs. Fred Hornsey read part of a letter from her husband, who is a surgeon with the British army in France. He gave a touching description of the desolated homes all over the country that was once so peaceful, prosperous and beautiful.

At the close of the meeting the ladies adjourned for tea in Ye Ginger Tavern. Mrs. George Mitchell, ably assisted by Mrs. E. W. Pack, was hostess for the afternoon, and served a dainty tea with some very delicious genuine Scotch shortbread. There will be no tea served next Monday, but the following week Mrs. Daniel Campbell, of Ard Eevin, will be the hostess, and the ambulance rooms are open every Monday at 11 a. m. Every Britisher is urged to come forward and help this work—so much is needed for the hospitals abroad.

REPORT OF GLENDALE FAMILY PLEDGE CARD CAMPAIGN

During the last week more than 1870 persons in Glendale and Casa Verdugo have signed pledge cards for the United States food administration. As yet we have no count of the many Glendale members who have taken advantage of former opportunities to sign cards. Figures from the public service department show about 4000 homes in Glendale and Casa Verdugo. The campaign committee is gratified with the results, but can hardly be satisfied with less than 100 per cent of our people being glad to join in the service of food conservation for our nation. This act of signing the cards was to show the administration in Washington our willingness to voluntarily modify our habits so as to make available the food supply necessary to winning the war.

Most of the canvassing was done by our school children, who were well equipped with instructions from the teachers as to what we are asked to do for our country and how we can help with the war. Their replies to objections, as they would relate their encounters, were so frank and simple, yet so statesmanlike and patriotic. Almost 600 of the pledges were taken by the Intermediate school, each section working to attain the highest percentage of cards in proportion to the number of scholars in the rooms. The earnest work of these students and teachers of all our schools deserves great credit.

Some may be inclined to speak lightly of the food administration because war prices still prevail. Have we thought how much higher prices might have been? And we must remember, too, the food administrator was only appointed a short time ago, and with very limited powers. The primary task is not to make prices low in war times, but to produce and conserve the food of the country so that our armies and allies may be fed and war may be won. The task of preventing exorbitant prices is a secondary though very important one.

The Glendale city unit of the Council of Defense wishes to express thanks to all our co-workers for your patriotic efforts which you have put forth during this campaign for the United States government. The extent of the activity to carry out the directions and advice of the food administration will attest the sincerity of our pledge. The campaign is to be followed by practical demonstrations by government experts. Glendale is fortunate in having such wide-awake domestic science teachers in our schools who are giving much help on this committee, and also to the homes through their pupils. The Glendale food administration is arranging for a demonstration by Mrs. Hazard, now in the government employ, on Tuesday morning, November 20. A notice in detail will be given later.

MISS EULALIA RICHARDSON,
Secretary Food Administration Committee.

DEATH OF BABY STEVENS

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stevens, formerly of Eagle Rock, passed away at the home of Mrs. Stevens' sister, 2812 West Avenue 33, Thursday, November 8. The Rev. W. E. Edmonds, of the Glendale Presbyterian church, conducted a brief service at the Pulliam undertaking parlors Saturday at 10 a. m. Interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

with his head above the clouds—90 per cent of the young men will remain true to their marriage vows while away from home." Clean living increases the efficiency of the soldier, says Sparks and it is therefore patriotic to encourage them to marry.

PASADENA, November 10.—Pasadena Lodge of Elks has heeded the advice of Billy Sunday and voted "dry." Billy told one of his meetings that he thought the Elks should set an example for other organizations in Southern California and accept prohibition. At a recent meeting of the lodge the 1000 members voted for a resolution directing that no more liquor be served in the club rooms. Only soft drinks hereafter will be served at Pasadena Elks' banquets. The rule is not just a war measure—it's good for all the time.

BERKELEY, November 10.—St. Mary's College and the University of California football teams met here this afternoon. The game was one of the "big games" of the season for St. Mary's and for California it was hardly a "little game." St. Mary's has a husky team and so far has been practically undefeated. Victory over California today would mean St. Mary's could claim the state championship. California's lineup was about the same as when she met Washington last Saturday. Hayes, halfback, and Lane, tackle, were missing, having been drafted. Farmer and Boucher are divinding honors as Lane's successor and Alford, Hooper and Symes are having their chance at Bates' backfield position.

Women are a hindrance to college men. That's what Porf. C. H. Rieber thinks and he told his class in logic about it. Native chivalry with men works their undoing when women students are around, according to the professor. "Many a time," Prof. Rieber declared "I have seen boys in this class give up their seats and stand in the rear of the room because some woman member of the class was standing in the aisle. I feel the men are laboring under a disadvantage." There were no women present when Prof. Rieber spoke.

The morning platform service at 11 o'clock discontinued for November. Dr. Pfeiffer will speak at the evening 8 o'clock service. Mrs. U. F. Newlin will sing, accompanied by Mrs. William Crawford. The midweek Bible class will meet with Mrs. Minette Sherman, 1526 Vine street, at 8 o'clock Wednesday eveningfl. This will be a question box meeting, at which all are urged to bring such questions as may have arisen in their minds relating to the discussions of the last seven weeks on the Lord's Prayer or any other kindred subject. This promises to be an unusually interesting meeting because of the question feature, which will take the place of a set topic. It is desired that, if possible, questions be submitted in writing Sunday evening for discussion on Wednesday.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

This day, Saturday, November 10, is the 434th anniversary of the birth of the great hero of our civic and religious liberties, Dr. Martin Luther. To him the entire Protestant world owes an everlasting debt of gratitude for the blessings and glories she has been enjoying since. He is known the world around as the Founder of Protestantism, the Father of Popular Education, the Brightest Literary Star of Modern History and the Father of Modern Civil and Religious Liberty. A man who has done so much for the world's good ought to be respected in memory and praised for his great work.

The Rev. Prof. David H. Bauslin, D. D., LL. D., dean of the theological faculty of Hanna Divinity School of Springfield, O., will speak on "Luther" in the Immanuel Presbyterian church in Los Angeles, corner Tenth and Figueroa streets, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. THE SUN AND THE STARS

Mrs. Mae L. Clark, who has lived in her house at 1562 West Second street since last April, and who was born and has spent much of her life in Japan, is in receipt of an interesting letter and poem from a friend who holds a position as professor of literature in a Tokio college, though he is now on leave of absence in Honolulu. The traditions in Mrs. Clark's family as well as her own personal experiences predispose her sentiments in accord with the thought expressed in Mr. Dodge's poem. Her grandfather, Colonel Fisher, was the first American consul to Japan, and her mother was married there to Mr. John Almon, who was at that time private secretary to Commodore Tattnal, who was one of the signers of the Japanese treaty with the United States. This was the first American marriage to be celebrated in Japan, and the couple made that country their home until little Miss Mae, who is now Mrs. Clark, was about eight years of age. Mrs. Clark's love of the country where she was born is mirrored in the poem printed below, which was written by a friend of her childhood, and which was first sung in Tokio at a meeting of welcome to the late Dr. Hamilton Wright Mabie.

Flags of two nations, ye are they,
—The world before—
That bear as do the heavens the sun and stars!
As long as heaven and earth shall stay,
For evermore,
Let none attempt to part the sun and stars!

THE SUN AND THE STARS
(Tune: "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean")

The sun and the stars in the heavens
United in radiance shine;
Their light like a mantle of glory
Descends as a blessing divine.
Let the nations whose banners are waving
The sign of the stars and the sun,
Give light to the earth and its people,
United in purpose as one.
Hurrah for the sun and the stars!
Banzai for the stars and the sun!
Inscribed on the skies it is written,
The Heart of the nations is one.

Though clouds in their darkness may gather,
And ages in turn pass away,
Unaltered as laws of creation,
The lights of the firmament stay.
Let the nations whose banners are waving
These emblems of beauty and light,
Stand firm for protection united,
As follows the day and the night.
Hurrah for the sun and the stars!
Banzai for the stars and the sun!
Deep down in all hearts it is written,
The Life of the nations is one.

Though language and customs may differ,
Though kingdoms their courses have run,
Though races and peoples have altered,
O'er all shine the stars and the sun.
Let the nations whose banners are waving
The symbols that never shall cease,
Insure for the earth and its people
The blessings of safety and peace.
Hurrah for the sun and the stars!
Banzai for the stars and the sun!
Enshrined in all life it is written,
The God of the nations is one.

—Philip Henry Dodge.

RAILROADING IN WAR TIME

Emperor William's secret service men in the United States reported to him that our armies would not be a factor in Europe under two years because of the car shortage and other railroad difficulties. William has found it necessary to change spies. The transportation needs of the country are being met, notwithstanding the unprecedented demand for service on account of the war. The action of the railroads of the country in merging their individual and competitive activities resulted in a maximum of transportation efficiency, and in their effort to render the best service possible, they had the co-operation of most shippers and travelers. During the rushes of government troops, material and supplies, the service to the public has not always been 100 per cent, but patrons generally appreciated the situation, and exercised that patience which was called for by stress of the emergency. It is admitted on all sides, even by those who are constitutionally opposed to corporate interests in any form, that the American railroads are doing their part in making the world safe for democracy in general, and women and children in particular.

CONGRATULATIONS

(By Samuel Parker)

Written for the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Jackson, River Forest, Ill. Dr. Jackson (now deceased) was among the ablest as a minister and educator in the Methodist denomination. He was a missionary to South America, long a member of the Rock River Conference, and for five years pastor of Centenary church, Chicago. He was a song writer of note, and for 25 years a friend and wise counsellor of the writer:

While it may seem a little late,
I want to help you celebrate.
Hence, o'er all intervenings, send
The greetings of a brother friend.
From Golden West I gladly scan
The homage of the "Jackson clan,"
And while with feast and speech and song,
They pushed the daylight hours along,
When evening her shadows spread
There yet remained so much unsaid;
And from these fragments I will take
Foundation for hte speech I make.
The homage of the "clan" was grand,
And, though outside the tribal line,
The olive branch is in my hand;
Pray grant a little space for mine.

Though you have shared in passing years
The common heritage of tears,
These only trained the spirit sight
For viewing other things aright.
In compensation came to bless
Unmeasured streams of happiness;
E'en earthly pleasures multiply,
Increasing as the years go by.
Beloved, blessed indeed are ye,
In your long lives of ministry.
How like the Master you have stood,
Lined up for duty, doing good.
A friendly act, a kindly word,
When anguished hearts were deeply stirred,
By human suffering rent and torn,
To these a message you have borne
Of hope and comfort and relief,
Assuaging thus the pangs of grief.
Well may your favored children rise
And call you blessed, and the eyes
Of children's children dance in glee
When they your welcome coming see.

And thus the years have come and gone,
And Life's twilight is hastening on.
The gathering shadows shall not dim
The light that emanates from Him.
No dread of chilling words, "Too late."
No tedious waiting at the gate.
But list; at mention of the name
The order comes with glad acclaim,
"Well done! Since faithful you have been,
"Behold your mansion; enter in."

No hurry, but when you must go
God grant that you may find it so.
